CENTRE COUNTY WORK RELEASE PROGRAM

Rules, Regulations, Terms and Conditions.

The Work Release Program was established by the Centre County Courts so that eligible inmates may maintain employment or secure new employment while incarcerated at the Centre County Correctional Facility. The program is a privilege and not everyone is appropriate for consideration.

The following are the rules and regulations of the Work Release Program. They should be reviewed carefully and understood completely. The end of this document contains a space for the inmate being considered to sign and date. By signing this document the inmate is stating that he/she has read the document or had the document read to them, therefore fully understands the document, and agrees to abide by all stated Terms & Conditions. Once an inmate has signed this document, they can not claim ignorance as an excuse for violating these terms.

Failure to comply with these Rules & Regulations will result in the following consequences; internal misconducts will be issued as well as immediate termination of work release privileges. In addition, violating certain conditions may subject the inmate to additional criminal charges. Furthermore, any violations of these terms will negatively impact earned time credit, consideration for parole, and any future consideration for work release eligibility.
